Overview:	Olds College (College) has an obligation to collect, use, and disclose personal information for purposes that facilitate achieving its mandate and complying with law. The College also has an obligation to protect personal information by making reasonable security arrangements against such risks as unauthorized access, collection, use, disclosure, or destruction. The procedure outlines the actions and expectations of members of the College community regarding protection of privacy as defined by the Alberta Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act.
Procedures:	Each division in the College is to manage operations in a manner that fulfills the following: Collection of Personal Information Collection of personal information will only occur where: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The collection is expressly authorized by an enactment of Alberta or Canada; • The information is collected for the purposes of law enforcement; or • That information relates directly to and is necessary for an operating program or activity of the College. Documents used to collect personal information directly from an individual the information is about will all contain a FOIP notification statement that includes the following information: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The purpose for which the information is collected; • The specific legal authority for the collection; and • The title, business address and business telephone of the FOIP Coordinator, as delegated by the head of Olds College, who can answer the individual's questions about the collection.

All FOIP notification statements are to be approved by the FOIP Coordinator prior to use. For all new collections of personal information, the FOIP Coordinator can assist in drafting the notification statement.

When collecting personal information, every reasonable effort is to be made to ensure that personal information is collected directly from the individual, and is accurate and complete.

An individual who believes that there is an error or omission in their personal information may request the College to correct the information.

- Evidence of the error and the correction are required by the College before taking action to correct any personal information.
- A correction to an opinion is to be made by way of an annotation or by linking the correction to that part of the record that is relevant.

The divisional head responsible for the record that collected the personal information will take action to correct any error and respond in writing within 30 days of the request for correction to the individual indicating that either:

- The correction has been made; or
- An annotation or linkage has been made.

Use of Personal Information

Personal information will only be used:

- For the purpose for which it was collected, or for a use consistent with that purpose; or
- Where the individual the information is about has identified the information and consented in writing to the specified use.

The College will only use personal information to the extent necessary to enable the College to carry out its purpose in a reasonable manner.

Personal information of an individual that is used to make a decision that directly affects that individual will be retained for at least one year after using it.

Disclosure of Personal Information

Personal information will only be disclosed:

- For responding to an access request for personal information regarding the person making the request as per the Access to Information Procedure;
- For the purpose of complying with an enactment of Alberta or Canada that authorizes or requires the disclosure;
- For the purpose for which the information was collected or a use consistent with that purpose;
- To an officer or employee of the College where the information is necessary for the performance of the duties of that person;
- Where the individual the information is about has identified the information and consented in writing to the disclosure;
- For the purpose of complying with a court order having jurisdiction in

Alberta; or

- For a purpose, not listed above for which that information may be disclosed under section 40, 42 or 43 of the FOIP Act.

Employees who are collecting personal information or who have been provided access to personal information that has been collected will ensure that the personal information is kept confidential and may only disclose that personal information to other employees of the College who require the information in order to perform the duties of the position to which they were hired. The personal information that can be shared is limited only to that component of the personal information that is necessary for performing the job duties.

Consent

Informed and meaningful consent by an individual to use or disclose personal information that was collected for a purpose other than for which it was collected must specify: to whom the personal information may be disclosed, how the personal information may be used, and be signed by the person who is giving consent.

The College requires consent in writing. However, in certain exceptional circumstances, consent may be received orally or electronically.

When consent to use or disclose personal information is sought by the College, Olds College will accept informed consent in an electronic form as long as it meets the following prerequisites:

- A record of consent will be retained as per the Olds College Retention and Disposition Schedule;
- It will be made accessible for future reference and use;
- And it will contain a reliable electronic signature that authentically identifies the user.

When consent to use or disclose personal information is sought by the College, Olds College will accept informed consent in an oral form as long as it meets the following prerequisites:

- A record of the consent will be created;
- It will be retained as per the Olds College Retention and Disposition Schedule;
- It will be made accessible for future reference and use;
- And it will reliably authenticate the identity of the user.

Records Management

All records are to be managed in accordance with the Olds College Records Retention and Disposition Schedule, Records Management Policy and Records Management Procedures.

Personal Information Security

Physical Records

Personal information collected and/or used by divisions must be stored in locations that provide reasonable safeguards against unauthorized access.

Electronic Records

Personal information access and use is subject to procedures established by the College that limit access to records to only those individuals that require access in order to perform their jobs.

Privacy Breaches

A privacy breach occurs when there is an unauthorized access to or collection, use or disclosure or disposal of personal information. This is in contravention of part 3 of the FOIP Act. Four steps will be taken to respond to a privacy breach: containment, evaluation, notification, and prevention.

It is College procedure to report any and all breaches to assess risk and mitigate impact to the affected individuals and the institution. Therefore, call the FOIP Coordinator immediately if you suspect that a privacy breach has occurred.
