- Each building must include, in an area of good visibility, at least 1 bulletin board for general postings and 1 bulletin board for postings by OCSA and student organizations.
- All bulletin boards must be clearly identified with labels to identify the information that may be posted. For example, bulletin boards for use by departments only must indicate the name of the department and must indicate that use is restricted.
- Bulletin boards labeled as belonging to specific departments are the responsibility of that department. The department determines the procedures for posting. Unrelated items may be removed by the department.
- Bulletin boards labeled as OCSA are the responsibility of the OCSA. OCSA determines the procedures for posting. Unrelated items may be removed by the OCSA.
- Any items posted on a general board must include the date of expiration, first name of the person posting the item and a contact email address. Any item not containing this information may be removed immediately by building caretakers. A building caretaker will remove all notices on the general bulletin boards at the end of each term.
- Clipboards on Residence doors are the responsibility of the Manager, Campus Life. However, any OCSA and recognized students organizations can post event related information on these clipboards without prior approval if they reflect the mission and values of the Olds College.
